SERMON: "Give Us Barabbas"

TEXT: Mark 15:1-5

Today, we will spend time in the book of Mark. At the beginning of the New Testament we see the story of Christ. We see Christ as he heads to the cross. But what happens in this narrative? It seems as if someone interrupts the story just a bit here. There is this man named Barabbas who interrupts the story of Christ heading to the cross. Barabbas is a crook, a criminal, a leader of an insurrection and just a bad man. We are going to look at the significance of why God put him in the story of Christ heading to the cross. Let's take time today to examine Barabbas and also ourselves.

"And there was one named Barabbas, who was chained with his fellow rebels; they had committed murder in the rebellion."
